

Welcome to Room B117

February 5 - 9

This week at school!

- This week we will compare fiction and non-fiction books that explore a common theme and be able to distinguish between the two genres.
- Sight Words this week: look, book.
- We will learn about hunks & chunks this week. This is a fun way to understand digraphs (2 letters combined to make one sound). This week's hunk & chunk: /oo/.
 - Students will begin to work on 4-letter blends containing /l/. CCVC & CVCC (blot, clam, flap, plan, sled, belt, help, melt, etc.). This was a bit of a struggle last week, however, when we slow down most kids began to make the connection.
 - In Math, students will begin to understand addition as putting together and will use the plus symbol (+) to join two groups. Children will learn to use the equals sign (=) to mean the same as.
 - Math vocabulary: add, addition, plus, equal, equation.
 - In Social Studies we will discuss Black History Month.
